Subject: Comments of Southern California Edison Company on CPUC Proposed Revisions to Aliso Canyon Withdrawal Protocol, dated July 1, 2019

Re: Comments of Southern California Edison Company on CPUC Proposed Revisions to Aliso Canyon Withdrawal Protocol, dated July 1, 2019

Pursuant to the July 1, 2019 CPUC Proposed Revisions to Aliso Canyon Withdrawal Protocol, Southern California Edison Company (SCE) hereby emails its comments. SCE supports the Energy Division's proposed revisions to the November 2, 2017 Aliso Canyon Withdrawal Protocol (Protocol). The proposed revisions will help to reduce the frequency of natural gas price spikes and their impact on electricity market prices for the benefit of all electric and gas customers, while still requiring that the Aliso Canyon gas storage facility be operated in a safe manner. The proposed revisions to the Protocol will benefit customers during periods of high or unexpected gas demand, which, when combined with the on-going restricted storage and pipeline operations of Southern California Gas Company, can lead to very high natural gas and electricity prices to the detriment of California customers.

Respectfully,
